Rosie’s Broken to Brave Heroes

Trauma Cases for the month of May

1. Pepper
Pepper was brought in with a tumour in the rump region that required surgical intervention. Our veterinary team carefully assessed the condition and performed surgical excision to remove the growth.

Following the surgery, Pepper received the necessary post-operative care and close monitoring to support healing and ensure a smooth recovery. With time, care, and patience, Pepper recovered well and was ready to return to the familiar surroundings he calls home.

Today, Pepper is back where she belongs, having received the medical attention she needed to get back on her paws.

2. Bruno was brought in with a severe facial wound caused by a tooth abscess that had ruptured and developed into a maggot-infested wound. The condition required immediate medical attention and dedicated wound management.

Our veterinary team initiated treatment with antibiotics, regular wound cleaning and dressing, and nutritional supplements to support healing. Since the underlying dental infection needed to be addressed, the affected tooth was also extracted to prevent further complications.

With consistent medical care, patience, and close monitoring, Bruno gradually recovered from his injuries. Once he had healed sufficiently and was fit to return, he was released back to his familiar surroundings.

Another life given a second chance through timely treatment and compassionate care. ❤️
